Welcome to Israel! To ease your journey to Tzfat (also spelled Tsfat, Zefat, Safed, etc.) we've prepared these detailed directions for you.

Our programs operate out of two campuses in the Old City. The primary campus is next to the Tourist Information Center, located at 17 Simtat Alkabetz. Directions and maps are provided here to both locations. If you have questions, please feel free to call 04-697-0311 (office) or 052-429-5377 (cell) or write to admissions@livnot.org. Have a safe trip, and we'll see you soon!

Directions by Bus or Train to Tzfat:

- From Jerusalem: Bus numbers 993, 992, and 982 run from Jerusalem to Tzfat, though not all of them run every day of the week. The preferred bus is 992 or 993, which are express routes, arriving in Tzfat 20-30 minutes earlier. These lines all leave from a Zalman Shazar Street (NOT Yaffo Street) which runs parallel to the Central Bus Station/Light Rail in Jerusalem. The stop is on the side of the street which is opposite the parking lot of the International Convention Center.
 - o Travel time is approximately 3-3.5 hours.
- From Tel Aviv: If you are traveling by bus, use Google Maps to check schedules from multiple transit companies at once, though there are few direct buses and they fill up quickly. Catch them from the Central Bus Station and not one of the later stops in town. The train/bus combo is often faster and more flexible in the time of departure (see below).
- From Tel Aviv, or Ben Gurion Airport: Take a train from one of the many Tel Aviv stations (there is even a station inside the airport) to Akko (also spelled Acco). These trains and buses each leave around twice every hour throughout the day. Get off at Akko, and board Nateev Express bus #361 from Akko to Tzfat. To find the bus stop in Akko, walk along the sidewalk to the right when exiting the train station. There is one bus shelter/stop where the #361 is going in the direction of Tzfat.
 - o Travel time is approximately 3 hours.

There are now direct buses to Tzfat from Netanya, Bnei Brak, Bet Shemesh and Kiryat Gat.
